Nebraska Corn is Real Fine.

Nebraska raised better corn this year than any state in the corn belt, according to Chief Inspector Powell, of the Omaha Grain Exchange, who has made a comparison of results in his office with those in other markets on the testing and grading of new corn. Practically every ear of corn which has arrived on the Omaha market has graded No. 3, which is as high as it can grade early in the season, and all of it has a moisture content of less than 19 per cent, which will permit it to be exported through the subtropic ports.

The Lyceum.

Ever since the failure of the Fisher Shipp Co., to make its date at North Platte the management has been at work arranging for another attraction to take its place. Today a contract was signed with the Redpath bureau for an appearance of the Chicago Glee Club on the course and they promise to be here. This is an old established company, having been together for nine years without a change in the personnel of the company. They are a quartet of singers and again are a quartet of trombonists. Then some other instruments are introduced and Mr. Morgan as a reader is not the least number on their varied program. A guarantee of $25 more than was to be paid to the Fisher Shipp Co., was necessary to get them. The dates for the course are as follows:

Dec. 4th, Edward Amherst Ott. Single admission 75c.
Jan. 13th, Four Artists. Single admission 75c.
Jan. 29th, Clarence L. Burgdorfer. Single admission 50c.
Feb. 5th, Chicago Glee Club. Single admission 75c.
Mar. 12th, Col. G. Or Shields. Single admission 50c.

Season tickets for the course, reserved will cost $1.50 until Tuesday Dec. 5 when they cannot be bought at any price. All purchasers of season tickets become patrons and as such are helping us in this work. All tickets are for sale at the Keith theatre or from the manager or may be secured through any student of the high school.

Two very good attractions will be at the Keith next week, Tim Murphy, the comedian on Tuesday evening and "Baby Mine" Wednesday evening.

State Irrigation Convention.

The State Irrigation convention that convened at Bridgeport on the 14th and adjourned on the evening of the 15th was a success, so far as the number of delegates in attendance, and the work done. About 250 delegates were present and the convention was quite harmonious on the necessities of irrigation. The chief topic discussed at the convention was the preserving to the people of Nebraska their rights to inter-state streams, such as the North and South Platte rivers. A resolution was adopted calling upon the attorney general of this state to bring such suits as might be necessary to preserve the rights of the people of this state to the inter-state streams. The attorney general of Kansas has already instituted such action against the people of Colorado, with reference to the waters of the Arkansas river. It was also decided to ask the legislature of the state to appropriate $25,000 to defray the expenses of such litigation. It being explained to the convention that Colorado had appropriated $55,000 and Wyoming $25,000 with anticipation of such suits being brought.

John J. Halligan, of this city was elected president for the ensuing year. Mr. LeBlanc, of Bridgeport was elected secretary, and the place for the next convention was fixed at Bridgeport.

The J. T. Club was entertained for the first time this season by Mesdames Henry Waltemath and Arthur Hoagland at the home of the former last evening. The club opens with thirty-two members. Card games were played, prizes for which were awarded to Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Seeberger, Mrs. Albert Schatz and J. F. Clabaugh. The two course lunch was much enjoyed. Assisting in serving were Misses Marie McCabe, Irma Huffman and Helen Waltemath.
